

Dr. Supriya Bezbaruah

Department of Epidemic and Pandemic Prevention and Preparedness, WHO Health Emergencies, WHO HQ

Dr. Supriya Bezbaruah is currently the Team Lead for Science Translation in Public Health Emergencies at the Department of Epidemic and Pandemic Prevention and Preparedness at WHO Health Emergencies in WHO HQ, a position she has held for a year. Previously, she worked for over 10 years at the WHO Regional Office for South-East Asia in various roles, including leading risk communication and community engagement (RCCE) for the region, serving as the Project Manager for the Pandemic Influenza Preparedness Framework (PIP), and working as the Senior Director for Global Health Strategies. Dr. Supriya received her PhD in molecular biology from University College London and conducted postdoctoral research in the US. She later transitioned to a career in communication and advocacy to promote science and health, which she discovered was her true passion.
